BOUQUiNi - Flower Vase

Manufactured by Absolute Appetite, designed by Ingrid Ruegemer

BOUQUINI Flower Vase: A sophisticated fusion of a bouquet collar and a flower vase, BOUQUiNi provides a graceful stage for beautiful blooms. Each precious little vase is a joy to hold and behold, its perfectly polished sheen reflecting the delicate elegance of the flowers it displays. BOUQUiNi vases are available in finest golden brass or with a luxurious silver-plated finish. They are a delight to view from every angle, and add a touch of magic to every room.

DESIGNER - Ingrid Ruegemer

German born Ingrid Ruegemer graduated in communication design in 1991, and started her career as a graphic designer and illustrator for advertising agencies, publishers, and record companies in Germany and Switzerland. In 1997, grabbed by wanderlust, Ingrid left Germany to gather work experience abroad. Her design journey took her to various places such as Cape Town, London, Grand Cayman and Barcelona. In 2001 Ingrid returned to London and co-founded the interdisciplinary design studio Absolute Appetite Ltd. In 2007 Ingrid graduated from Central Saint Martins College of Art and Design with an MA Design degree. Her MA project explored the potential of tableware within business environments in the 21st century responding to new needs and opportunities. The outcome of this project: Sensory tableware products, created to stimulate imagination, communication and well-being.

MANUFACTURER

ABSOLUTE APPETITE is a London-based interdisciplinary design studio, established in 2001 by German-born designer couple, Ingrid Ruegemer and Oliver Szasz. Besides offering design consultancy services to clients, the studio also produces its own collection of innovative, sensuous tableware products. The range represents a passion for the finest materials, traditional craftsmanship, and innovation in design, and each piece promises to stimulate the senses.
